CHANGES

Time it was,
and what a time it was;
It was a time of innocence,
a time of confidences.

Long ago, it must be . . .
I have a photograph.
Preserve your memories;

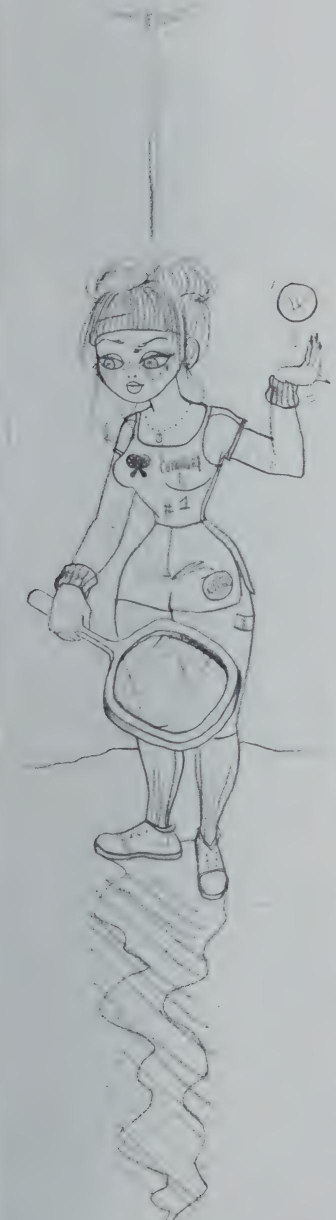
SPRING SPORTS



Netmen Improve On Love

The High School of Commerce tennis team was full of determination and skill. Even though there were only six players, they kept the tennis team alive.

The players were not only skillful, but good sportsmen as well. Coach Coleman did an excellent job of showing that working with small quantity one can get good quality.

Commerce Girls Place Well

The Raider softball team enjoyed a very productive season, placing in the middle of a very strong field. As always, there was an excellent turnout for the team. With seniors Tina Rose, Jerry Kelly, and Tracy Daniels, and juniors JoEllen Timothy, Debbie Lemke, and Diane Kadzik, along with many outstanding freshmen, Coach Flo Greenleaf had an excellent team to place on the field. The highlight of the girls' season was the final game against Hopkins Academy where they came out on top of a thrilling 13-12 victory.

Batmen And Raiders, Capped Crusaders

The HSC baseball team this season went through the ups and downs of rebuilding. Coach Wright, in his first year with the Raiders, had to start almost from scratch with his line-up. There were no standouts as everyone did his share of the work. Finishing with a one and ten record, the Redmen look for a productive 1979 season.

The Raider track team enjoyed a highly successful season with the combined effort of everyone involved. Coach Tim Fitzgerald was able to field a very skillful team. Richard Schmoke was unparalleled in jumping technique. Heavy man Erwin Driskell muscled his way to the top in the discus and shotput events. In the final stretch the Raiders crossed the tape on top and with a lot of style.

This year's track team had a good year. The girls were successful in most events. The standouts were Ethel Burge and Beth Case. Ethel Burge, who placed No. 1 in all events she competed in, was the best all around athlete. Beth Case was the most consistent distance runner and placed well in all of the meets.

Participants such as Diane Green, Marva Charles, Gloria Jones, Sonia Mitus, Joie Blake, Kathy Brown, and Jackie O'Connell could be relied upon to give 100% performance at every meet.

Coach Williams commented, "All we needed was more depth in our throwing events and distance running."

FACULTY

Our Principal

Our principal, Mr. Philip Sweeney, has contributed much to education. His numerous honors and merits acknowledge this fact. He has played an active role in the schools of Springfield and abroad.

Before becoming principal of the High School of Commerce, he was acting-Assistant Superintendent of Schools, principal at Classical Junior High, vice-principal at Classical High, and was vice-principal at Forest Park Junior High.

Mr Sweeney has also represented the United States at news conferences in New Delhi and Berlin. We are all very proud of Mr. Sweeney.

To Help The School Run Smoothly

A very important part of the High School of Commerce administration is the vice principals: Dr. Midura, Mr. Troy and Mr. Basili. All of the administration deal in disciplinary matters, but each of them has a few individual duties.

For example, Dr. Midura handles the programming and rearranging of students' schedules, Mr. Troy takes care of the athletic programs of Commerce, and Mr. Basili organizes the detention room. According to Mr. Sweeney, our administration is very efficiently run.

The English department, directed by Mrs. Karr, offers two courses of English, college preparatory and business.

The college preparatory course focuses mainly on literature. Students in Mrs. Griffin's English classes were given a list of books to choose from and read over the summer months. When they returned in September, they had group discussions about each book in front of their classmates. This was done to acquaint the other students with the books they had not read.

The business course in Mr. Ciesluk's classes opened with an in-depth study of grammar in the first term, and started literature during the second.

TEACHERS THINK . . .

Mrs. Karr: "Learning for everyone should be an ongoing process which does not stop with graduation."
Mrs. Markowski: "I feel very fortunate to be teaching at Commerce. It is the best school in the area."
Mrs. Bennett: "It is nice to be important, but it is important to be nice."
Mr. Hurley: "The deepest feeling always shows itself in silence."
Mr. Allen: "Nothing is impossible for the man who doesn't have to do it."
Mrs. Haley: "This above all; to thine own self be true." Hamlet
Mr. Ellison: "Put mind in gear before setting mouth in motion."
Miss Costa: "Love is anterior to life, posterior to death, initial of creation, and the exponent of earth." E. Dickinson
Mrs. Griffin: "If you can't be a pine on the top of the hill, be a scrub in the valley - but be the best little scrub in the side of the hill; Be a bush if you can't be a tree." D. Mallock
Miss Cheney: "I am very happy."
Mr. Corcoran: "The burden of education is on the student."
Mrs. Heffernan: "Readers make leaders."

Preparing For The Job Force

The business and secretarial departments of the High School of Commerce are the cornerstones on which the reputation of this school is built. They teach the students to develop the skills of stenography, typing, filing, duplicating, and machine calculating. Mrs. Carroll is the department chairperson.

The math department, directed by Mr. LaFlamme, offers a variety of subjects for the students at Commerce. Among these are algebra, geometry, and calculus. New courses were introduced in the home economics department this year.

Child development and family living was taught by Mrs. Lemmon and Mrs. Malesta. Students participating in the class had many projects. The first one involved a zinnia plant; one was given to each student. They were instructed to care for it, as if it were their child, for one week. Mrs. Lemmon said, "The students didn't seem to like it too much!"

Interior design and home management were taught by Mrs. Gibbons and Mrs. Arnold. The courses were introductions to home improvement.

Some students from the interior design classes took a trip to a town house on Mattoon Street during November. The house was in the process of being totally remodeled. They returned in January and were very impressed.

The art classes at the High School of Commerce are for those students who show special talent in this field. Some of their projects were exhibited at the Showcase '78 last fall and received many compliments from those who saw them.

Helping Hands Find A Way

Guidance counselors at the High School of Commerce are kept busy throughout the year. Raider Booters Get Their Kicks

The Commerce booters passed and kicked their way to the finish of another season, despite almost insurmountable odds. Many times the girls did not know if they'd have enough players to participate, but nonetheless they kept on going. Coach DiSanti commented that the combined effort of all the girls was outstanding and they all played well.

The High School of Commerce boys soccer team had an 0-16-2 season this year, although their record, unfortunately, doesn't show the true spirit of the team. With Angel Falcon at center, and senior standouts Ed Kennedy at halfback, Dale Provost and Mark Taylor at the wings, and an excellent job by freshman goalie Dom Sarno, the Raiders were quite competitive despite the final outcome. The highlight of the team's season was tying the two top teams in the league. Coach Guerra, however, is optimistic, stating, "This team is young and very soon, possibly by next year, they'll be a team to reckon with."

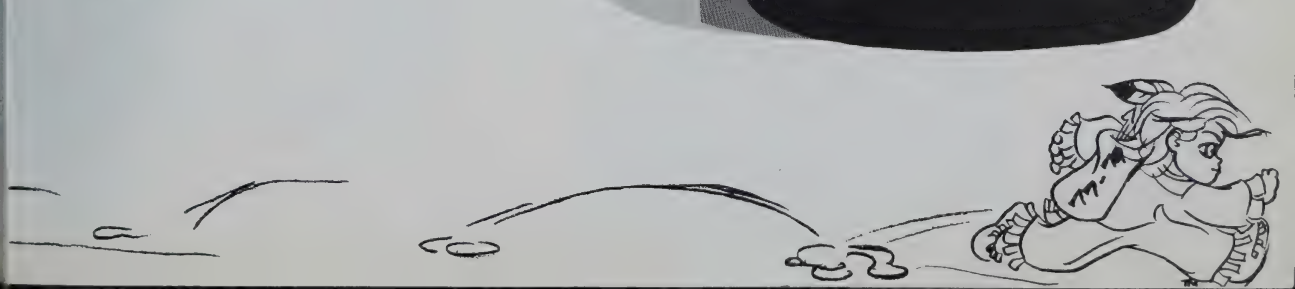
FASHION



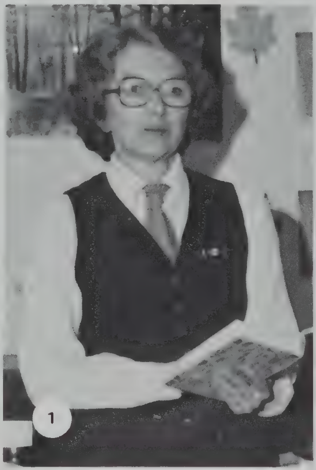
The Way We Wear . . .

The High School of Commerce is known for its well-dressed students. Fashion at Commerce is comprised of a wide variety of contemporary styles. Some styles of today are styles of the past. Bobby socks with skirts have returned to add an innocent school girl look to the everyday fashion scene.

Another idea that is very popular is piercing ears twice, then matching or mixing earrings for a more feminine look.

Styles for women range from masculine three-piece suits with ties to feminine disco dresses.

The fashion world is ever chaning, and will continue to improve at The High School of Commerce.



1. Mrs. Karr shows that not only students can be in fashion, the faculty also contributes to the good looks of Commerce. Neckties add a touch of class to many clothes. 2. Even with the coming of the short and sassy look, the long and silky still remains, and Francisca Morales is a good example of that. 3. Connie Avery demonstrates one of the beautiful styles of winter coats. Leathers are very classy coats and the fur adds just a bit more sophistication. 4. Here's Joe Escobar trying to prove that anything girls wear, boys can wear better. 5. No matter what styles come and go, jeans will remain. Carolyn Fairley matches hers with a loose fitted, long blouse of today. 6. Some people at Commerce prefer the shoes that are more casual. 7. The business curriculum of Commerce is reflected by Scott Malone's example of the executive cool. 8. Styles of yesterday resurface and become styles of today as shown by Vicky Ekstein with her bobby socks and full midi skirt. 9. The boots and midi skirt worn by Lori Schermerhorn is a very practical and fashionable style for the cold winter months. 10. Khayyam Mahdi shows that the males dress just as well as the females. 11. The baggy pants are a nice addition to the styles of Commerce as Maronda Marshall shows.

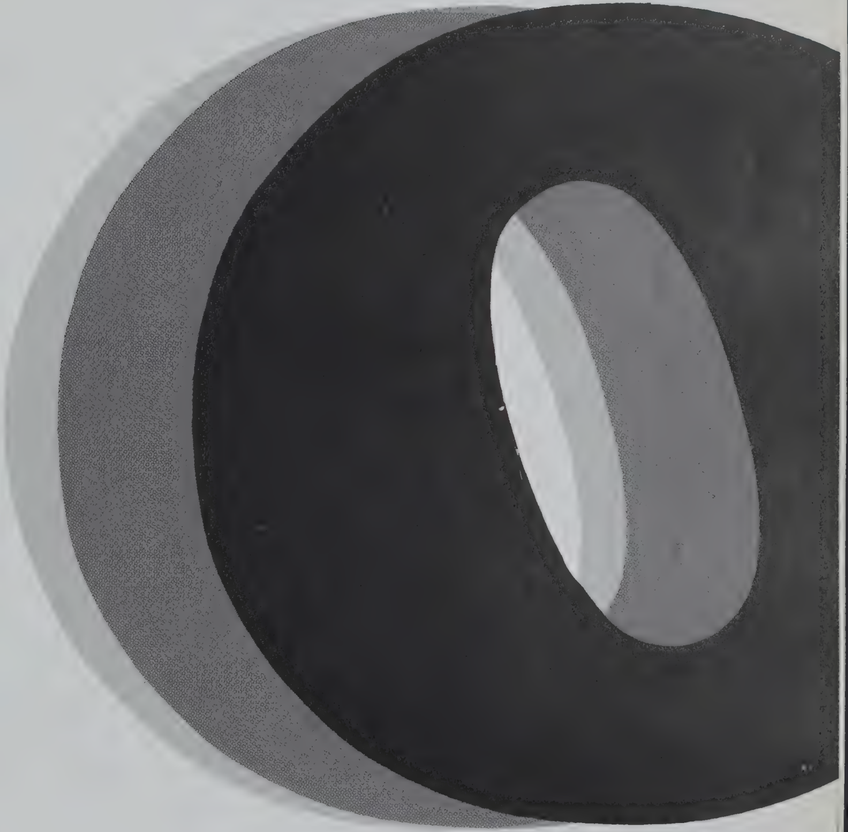
ORGANIZATIONS



The Gift Of Life

On October 24, 1978, the school assembly hall was transformed into a blood donor center as the School Red Cross organization held its first Bloodmobile of the school year. Spirit was high and 140 students signed up to donate a gift of life.

Miss Mary Ellen Hogan founded the Commerce Bloodmobile 5 years ago. Because of the overwhelming response from students, the activity has been expanded to a semi-annual project and Mrs. Karr has signed on. Miss Hogan as well as the nurses from the blood center commended the students for their cooperation and dedication to this very worthwhile cause.

Girls Make Passes

The 1978-79 office aides kept the office running smoothly while they assisted the secretaries. Some of the daily duties of an office assistant were: collection of attendance cards, writing passes for late students to school, typing, and the collection of names of students not in classes. The office aides get actual office training and experience, while helping to keep the paper work and records up to date.

Library Band Aids

Once again this year, Mr. Ellison had the help of his library aides. These aides have given their time generously to keep the library running smoothly.

The library aides perform numerous services in the library. One of their functions is to keep a record of students who remain in the library during their studies. They also offer to help the students find materials for various subjects. Other tasks are to remind students that they have overdue books, help keep the file catalog up to date, and assist with the monthly inventory.

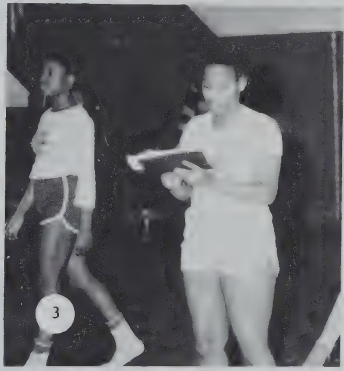
Leaders Keep Gym Fit

The gym leaders were chosen by the gym teachers for their leadership qualities. All gym leaders were either juniors or seniors. Their main task was to assist the freshmen in gym classes. By doing this, they have proven themselves dependable and above average in most physical education activities.

The gym leaders assist the teachers with class organization, direct warm up demonstrations, and give the students individual attention. They have been selected for their athletic ability as well as their ability to get along with and influence their fellow students.



1. The 1978-79 gym leaders are: Bernice Lynch, Sheila Johnson, Jerri Kelly, Carolyn Hines, Maria Consentini, Kim Gorman, Gladys Santiago, Susan Devino, Pat Shepard, Laurie Beyer, Marla Poudrier, Michelle Glenn, Renee Ware, Pamela Coombs, Deidra Thayer, Patricia Lough, Sharon Alberg, Cecilia Winters, Phyllis Reed, Tammy Paxton, Margaret Szelag, Lorraine Davis, Karen Cuffie, Karen Garaughty, Lisa Williams, Elizabeth Williams, Elizabeth Vasquez, Sheila Henry, Marilyn Parent, Cheryl Bunnell, Yvonne Lloyd, Suzette Lessard, Jeri Meuse, Laveda Taylor, and Dave Paro. 2. Cheryl Bunnell and Gladys Santiago taking attendance. 3. Barbara Watson takes attendance for Mrs. O'Dell. 4. Pamela Coombs waits for Liz Vasquez to finish checking attendance. 5. Marilyn Parent aids Shekine Elliot on the unevens. 6. Renee Ware attracts Barbara Miller and Sheila Parks.

CADUCEUS Staff Creates Artistic Memory Book

The Caduceus editorial staff, under the direction of Miss Carol Costa, worked sixth period every day in the library.

The 1978-79 yearbook staff strove to achieve more artistic layouts while expressing the most memorable moments of the current school year. The editors-in-chief this year were Debbie Beroth and Celeste Charron. Section editors were: Brian Stevenson, sports; Bruce Croteau, freshmen and juniors; Brian DeBarge, organizations; Kathy Bonneau, activities; Lynn Tassinari, faculty; Jana Cottle, seniors. The theme of "Changes" was carried through the book by the art work of Tracy Martin.

CADUCEUS Business: Sales And Publicity

Caduceus is the most expensive item in the school budget. So, from September to December, the yearbook business staff keeps busy soliciting ads. Many area businesses are more than happy to provide the yearbook with this type of support.

Then, in December, the staff turn their attentions to sales promotions. A yearbook is only as successful as its demand, so this is a very important task. Posters and printed material fill the building to encourage orders as these Caduceus members put their sales techniques to good use. When yearbook orders soar, the task has been accomplished.

EXECUTIVE Gets The Beat

The Commerce Executive is an important source of information for the school. It is published every six weeks and keeps the students up to date on news, fashion, sports, and much more. The newspaper has been in publication for over fifty years. When it first emerged, it was called Commerce. Then, in 1976, a student vote changed the name to Executive.

A journalism course is required in the junior year to learn the procedures of newspaper writing, layout, and composition. Through the help and supervision of Miss Adelina DiSanti, adviser, the newspaper continues its successful publication.

Vocalists Win Special Honors

The High School of Commerce Concert Choir received recognition this year for numerous vocal achievements. Virginia Buchan, Louise Larocque, Kevin Baskerville, and Milton White were selected for the Western Massachusetts District Chorus. Louise and Milton also received All-State recommendations.

During December, the Concert Choir ventured to Faith United Church for a Round-the-Table Carol Sing. In March, the choir presented a concert with the East Longmeadow High School Chorus. Later, the vocalists traveled to Belmont, Massachusetts, to the American Choral Directors Association Festival on April 28, 1978.

Next year the returning juniors should form a strong core for the group. This year's freshmen are also excellent prospects to fill the vacancies of the departing seniors.

Something Of Note

The eleven members of the Girls Ensemble auditioned last spring. Alisa Moquin was the only returning member. Marcia Hill and Nina Thompson represented strong leadership qualities.

The Girls Ensemble presented many concerts with the Freshman Chorus. During December the ensemble sang out yuletide cheer with Christmas carols at Baystate West and the Marriott Hotel. In March the concert tour continued during Our Schools Week. A salute to spring and performance finale came with the Spring Concert, May 9, which heralded the excellent ability and fine training of the Girls Ensemble.

A Fresh Start

This year's Freshman Chorus showed special promise for the next two years. Many of the choraleers will readily make the transition to the High School of Commerce Concert Choir or Girls Ensemble.

In November, Mr. Conway's freshmen entertained students at Chestnut Junior High School during American Education Week. This was the first public performance of the year for the chorus and it started them on the right note.

On December 20, the Freshman Chorus gave a performance of Christmas carols at Baystate West. Then, during March, they performed in Our Schools Week. The Spring Concert, given on May 9, was another success for the promising Freshman Chorus.

Instrumental Sound

Though lack of sufficient members made it all but impossible to function as a full band, Mr. Conway's group provided instrumental accompaniment throughout the year. CHEERLEADERS AROUSE SCHOOL SPIRIT

The members of the 1978-79 cheerleading squad have repeatedly been effective in exciting support for this year's sports events. The cheerleaders, under the leadership of captain Diane Green and co-captain Denise Bowden, have accomplished the task of revising old cheers and creating new ones.

This year's coaches were Miss Greenleaf and Mrs. O'Dell. The girls have represented the High School of Commerce at the United Way Kickoff. They also organize rallies to promote the Commerce spirit. The cheerleaders did a great job rousing the Raiders on to victory.

Picture Perfect

This year at the High School of Commerce Mr. Ciesluk and 35 students organized a photo club. This was the first year, to Mr. Ciesluk's knowledge, that such a club was organized.

The students learned about the structure of the camera, the many techniques of picture taking, how to develop film and many other qualities that make up a good photographer.

Hopefully, next year, with the help of Mr. Ciesluk and the interest in the students, the future of a photo club at the High School of Commerce will be promising.

They Watch Our Figures

The G. O. homeroom consists of the best junior students in Bookeeping I. They are entrusted with the duty of handling student funds for G. O., senior activities, and Caduceus. Mr. E. Conchieri is the advisor.

The students record all payments from the fr., jr., and sr. classes. Cards are kept along with a file with a card for each student in Commerce.

In addition to all these duties, G. O. students also do the regular bookkeeping work handled by Bookkeeping II students.

The G. O. homeroom maintains records for about $13,000. Such training is very helpful when applying for a job.

Commerce's NHS

The Stanley O. Smith Chapter of the National Honor Society of the High School of Commerce was organized by Mr. Sweeney in April of 1962, four years after he became principal. Advisors are Mrs. Helene Griffin and Miss Donna McCarthy. The members meet once a month to discuss old events and to plan new activities.

The National Honor Society has initiated a tutoring system for any Commerce student requesting scholastic help. In addition to tutoring, Honor Society members run the school store. Profits from the store, along with membership dues and money from other fund-raisers, go to the National Honor Society Scholarship Fund.

Students Speak Out

The Student Council consists of 27 members. Nine are chosen from each class, a president, a vice-president, a secretary and six council members. The advisor is Mr. Alan Ferrigno.

Twice a month meetings are held. At these meetings plans are made for various activities.

School activities are not the only functions the Student Council is involved in. They are a part of the community as well. Members are involved in the Salvation Army's can drive and other outside activities.

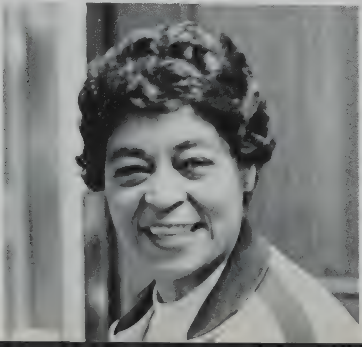
Scene From The Sidelines

The Year In Review was headed by the Raider FOOTBALL team that lost a close one in the Division III Superbowl. Leading off the team was the "Utility Man" ERWIN DRISKELL. ERWIN and QB GEVAN COLE made All-Western Mass. and All-League teams with ROD ANTOINE. Senior GEVAN contributed everything he had to that Superbowl effort. Speaking of great efforts, the teams that need to be praised most are the ones that aren't really paid close attention to. The TENNIS team got together on the efforts of only six players. Coach COLEMAN had nothing but praise for people like JOHN FISHER. The BOWLING team, with bowler VIC VALOISE, had a good year. If more people had participated, there would have been more games. With just the few that they had, however, the squad placed well. It was fun all around. The HOCKEY team just barely got its feet off the ground, and did surprisingly well. Comments co-Captain BRIAN SEREWICZ, "I like all the guys on the team, but I think that there just isn't enough spirit." Comparing last year's team with this year's, BRIAN feels that when the team tries hard, giving 100%, that's all he could ask for. While commenting on 100% performance, one must bring up the subject of our High School of Commerce BASKETBALL team. Coach MARTIN, who receives high acclaim for "a great job done", feels that he is only a small part. The rest is the team. He comments, "I try to give them a little guidance, but when it comes down to it, they do it all." While talking with the young men of the team, one would think that they feel very self-assured and confident. They make candid comments, however. When asked about feelings for other players, playing ability, and the coach, junior TYRONE NULLS said, "As a team I think that our attitudes are pretty good. Everyone gets along. I could improve my shot and ball handling, though." Juniors TIM GODBOLT and ANTHONY CARTER share the same feeling. TIM and TONY feel that, "We all can improve something." They also feel that there are no "superstars" on the team. However, TIM feels that the guys aren't selfish. (TONY feels that many times they can be.) Does the team miss MARK HALL? TIM says he wishes MARK, or someone like MARK, was still with us. TONY replies, "No, MARK is gone: the job is ours." In reviewing the sports of this year, one mustn't forget the matmen of WRESTLING. One young man has remained undefeated. His name? MICHAEL GREEN. MIKE feels that WRESTLING is a man's sport, and is not for kids. MICHAEL commented, "WRESTLING is fun, and it helps my body-building." Senior class vice-president REGGIE SANDERS also feels that WRESTLING is a difficult sport. "It drains the mind mentally and the body physically." He also says it interferes with after-school activities. REGGIE placed fourth in Western Mass. Moving on to other things, spring sports are on their way again. TENNIS was already mentioned, but not some others. Seems Coach WRIGHT will not be back as BASEBALL coach. The past season was a tough one, with many sluggers not slugging the way they should have. Let's hope things improve this season. It's rough when times are so embarassing. Commerce hopes for some players who are a bit more serious about their play. Three cheers for DAVE PARO, by the way. On the greens this school could hope for better times, too. The GOLF team is not usually blessed with a massive turnout for the squad. Too bad. It's a good sport requiring good skill. Mr. CONCHIERI swings a pretty fair iron himself, by the way. Receiving an equally opposite reception is the girls SOFTBALL team, which is always blessed with plenty of girls trying out. Last season was a particularly fine one. TRACY DANIELS was all over the basepaths and Coach Greenleaf was proud of the play, especially against some suburban powerhouses. On the TRACK, ETHEL BURGE, an all-around good athlete, ran for three years. Comments Mrs. WILLIAMS, "ETHEL could be relied upon to give 100% performance at any given time." CATHY BROWN, who also ran for TRACK, added spirit, determination, and fun. Both seniors, these two will be missed. RICHARD SCHMOKE gave the boys TRACK team a thrill by breaking records and placing first as easy as pie. Coach RYAN developed the athletes into a group to be regarded with caution. Switching seasons again, this fall proved different and interesting on the SOCCER front. Accomplishing their first point in numerous contests, the boys SOCCER booters, boasted a proud field and evenly distributed talent. Coach GUERRA is guarded against predictions, but feels there are victories in the air of next fall's season. MARK TAYLOR won recognition in the Springfield Evening Daily News as Player of the Week. That's a first for Commerce SOCCER. Girls SOCCER was disappointing in the sense that players were not conscientious about practices and consistent play. Coach DISANTI fielded a small young lineup, headed by the expertise of MAGGIE DOYLE. DONNA NICHOLAS has been a true-blue performer, too. The season began in splendid form, but ended with hard-fought losses. It's difficult when a team is faced with fewer numbers to field with each game. From the field to the court where DIANE KADZIK was the force behind the girls BASKETBALL team. She helped lead a bench comprised of many inexperienced players through a learning process which should give results next season. A strong core of girls remained faithful to the team and Coach GREENLEAF despite many drop-outs and no-shows. Ending with the least respected group of athletes as far as school recognition goes, the boys JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL team was stellar in performance. J.V. BASKETBALL is a good training ground and gives the boys a chance to prove themselves. GREG WILLIAMS, a junior, feels that, given the chance, he could do better than he's doing now. "We should not continue to make the same mistakes, but learn from them. We hardly ever talk about why we lose a game. We just leave, and that's wrong." RONALD BRACE, also a junior, plays for the fun. RONNIE, who played for the team last year, feels this year's team was better. "We had TONY CARTER, and he was a very aggressive player, but this year we had more aggressive play from more people."



The Raiders Bowl 'Em Over

At the beginning of the season Bowling Coach Raymond Ellison made a 24 win-40 loss prediction for this year's varsity team.

Bowlers hoped to strike it big, especially with this year's crew. The team aimed to keep the record above 500 and prove the coach wrong by staying out of the gutter against perennially tough Cathedral and Classical High. With ten enthusiastic competitors and Coach Ellison's experience, plus enduring practice at the State Bowl, the team was ready to "roll".

Grapplers Grab Hold

The High School of Commerce wrestling team, problemed with a constantly shifting starting line-up, resignations, and wrestlers missing their weight classes, managed to come up with a spunky 6 win, 10 loss record. The wrestling Raiders also captured a hard fifth place in the Christmas Tournament. Coach Tom Ryan had to rely heavily on his "Able Stable."

The wrestlers that realized what was required and expected of them, got tough when things got rough. "The Stable" entered the Western Massachusetts Division II Wrestling Tournament with nine very aggressive grapplers. Paul "The Stable" Walker was the top seed at 114 lbs.; Erwin Driskell was seeded third at unlimited; Reggie Sanders fourth at 169 lbs.; Matt Tatum was the fifth seed; and scrappy Joe Taylor was the ninth seed. Juan Santana, Chris Wesley, and Kris Owens were all seeded in the teens. "All of them were capable, ready, and very fired up," said Coach Ryan.

Consistency In "C" Sharp

Coached by Miss Florence Greenleaf, the girls basketball team enjoyed a successful season though the final record was 5 wins and 7 losses. Many close matches never show in the final standings.

This year, as always, there was an excellent turnout for the squad. Graduation had only hurt the group with the loss of one senior.

The 1978-79 girls basketball team was led by senior standouts Ethel Burge and Diane Kadzik. Their fine offensive and defensive play highlighted a tough, competitive schedule. Their leadership will be sorely missed, but a strong, returning nucleus of players should assure a fine season next year.

The Red Raider basketball team was on the warpath again. This year's Raiders clipped Tech 61-60 for their third straight city championship, which was really avenging a 76-60 loss to the interschool rivals. After having tasted the blood of a fallen foe, they wanted it all again. The Commerce tribesmen, with a record of 17-4, chased an unheard-of fourth straight Western Mass. and State Division II crown, but, instead, entered the tournament in Division I.

This year's team was a young one, with no star leading the way; it was an equally balanced squad of players who wanted to stay "numero uno". Awesome Darryl "Big D" Best acted as a big 6-4 backbone for the team. Tiny "Hot Rod" Antoine, the team's sharpshooter, hit from all sides of the court. Paul "Gator" Gasque went baseline and up the middle like "an eel through seaweed". The tribe had swing men Tony Carter and Andy Crump; also, the strong designated hitters, Tim Godbolt, Jim Collins, Aaron Roberson, James Everett, Dave Williams, and Eddie Anderson. Add to them the "tomahawk jam man" Tyrone Nulls. These were the stars of the Raider team. In fact, these were the Raider team.

ACTIVITIES

Juniors Dress It Up

The Junior Prom for the class of '79 was held at the Civic Center on May 12, 1978.

The event broke all previous attendance records. The class was pleased with the outcome of the prom. Talk from both students and faculty lingered in the school for days.

The Junior Prom Queen was Dorothy Doherty. Her court consisted of Asia Meckelvaney, Kathy Marrow, Elisa Zavala, and Lillian Rivera.

A Thing Of Beauty

The Class of 1979 knew the end of high school had come with the preparations for the Senior Prom. Although plans and reservations had been made at the end of the junior year, the prom needed the finishing touches.

Elections for the Senior Prom Queen and Court were held in January and by popular vote Katherine Marrow received the honor of reigning over the Senior Prom as the Queen Members of her Court were Donna Lucerino, Donna Persson, Brenda Siano, and Elisa Zavala.

The Senior Prom was held on May 26, 1979 at the Colosseum in West Springfield. Inner City Energy provided the music.

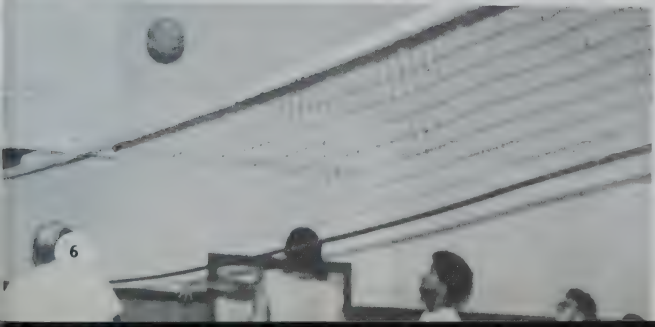
Just For The Fun

The Commerce students played the faculty in three games this year and the faculty pulled out ahead in all three.

The first games played were two volleyball games in which both the junior and senior classes were defeated by the faculty. The junior class treasury benefited from these games.

The next game was a broom hockey game in which the seniors were again defeated by the faculty. The profits from this game went towards a banquet for the winning football team.



1. The team of faculty, with brooms in hand, were ready for action. 2. Miss Costa demonstrates the beauty of a good serve. 3. The student team of Erwin Driskell, Dave Paro, Gevan Cole, Joe Escobar, Louis Jones, Steve Manolakis, and Dennis Gonzalez looks confident of victory. 4. Mr. Olejarz thinks he deserves a break. 5. The defense stands ready. 6. It's a question of getting the ball over the net.

Rally Fever

1. Derrick Sutton- "Atten-tion!" 2. Reggie Sanders thinks he can fly. 3. Joe Escobar trying to be a sly dog. 4. Diane Green tries to wake up the freshmen. 5. Erwin Driskell- "Give me a 'C'!" 6. Todd Jenkins"Look man, no feet." 7. Kevin Powell portrays our school Indian. 8. Gevan Cole, Joe Escobar, Reggie Sanders, Miss Greenleaf, Erwin Driskell, and Louis Jones from the chorus line. 9. Denise Bowden is a co-captain of the cheerleaders. 10. Sylvia Williams- "Oh, I have it now." 11. "All for Commerce stand up and holler!" 12. Cecilia Winters and Sylvia Williams get into the feel of the cheer. 13. Colleen Jones, Pam Schott, and Cecilia Winters demonstrate one of the newer cheers.

Assemblies Ignite School Cheer

"SP-IR-IT! We got the spirit, let's hear it!" These words were the start of our rallies this year. The High School of Commerce students showed that they were in the spirit. The cheers were led by the cheerleaders, who added new styles to old cheers.

The first rally of the year was one of the best ever. There was a competition between the classes, and the seniors came out victors.

This year Commerce had two sets of cheerleaders, the regular cheerleaders and some "irregular cheerleaders" wearing new styles of shirts, skirts, and legs. These "irregular cheerleaders" were football players portraying good humor.

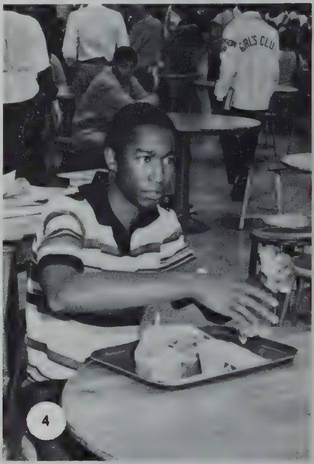
TIME TO TALK

Lunchtime in the cafeteria is the only time when students can get together, share conversation, and enjoy their lunches after working hard during the morning hours. Many students also take advantage of the smoking privilege during the thirty minutes given for lunch.



1. Marguerite Ferioli prepares for first lunch. 2. Cashiers Alice Kynard and Lynn Serra keep busy. 3. Charlene McCoy, Valerie Andrews, Gwen Gowan, Pamela Gaynor, and Teresa Parker meet in the cafeteria for lunch. 4. Eric Lancaster wipes his hands after a hardy meal. 5. Mmm . . . Meatloaf and instant potatoes. 6. Cindy Vidal debates whether or not to swallow. 7. Stephen Williams prefers a piece of Boston cream pie.

Students Gearing For The Real World

More than one half of the students at the High School of Commerce have part time jobs during the afternoons and evenings. The type of jobs are varied and many. However, some students receive these jobs through our placement counselor, Mr. Anthony J. Serafino. Many employers call the high school looking for part time workers, generally for office work.

Many students in the High School of Commerce gain experience in office skills, especially typing, filing, stenography and bookkeeping. The guidance department offers Commerce students applications for employment. These employment cards are filled out by the student and returned. The student qualifying with the best school records will be selected first.

Flower Sale Reincarnates Student Life

On October 19, approximately 300 carnations were sold by the senior class officers and Student Council members to benefit the senior class. Each flower sold for fifty cents.

The 157 dollars made from the sale went to the class treasury.

COMMERCE

Commerce . . .
A building I've come to know for three years:
Your halls I've walked
Your family I've met
All too fast

Commerce . . .
You brought me joy and sorrow
Laughter to hide the tears
Friends to share my life with
Until today became TOMORROW

Commerce . . .
Your teams and their spirit
Games they've won and lost
Victories for you
Fun for us

Commerce . . .
You now place upon me a cap and gown
I sit in the section I once looked upon
Your colors mean so much to me
Now that I have realized their meaning

Commerce . . .
I wave good-bye to a gone Class Day
I leave behind friendships
Letting life take me on
The path she has paved . . .

Commerce. (I'll miss you)
There is no doubt in my mind
That I'll be back to see you again,
Then maybe we
Can relive old times

Le Freak

Le freak c'est chic,
Freak out!
Ahh-Freak out!
Le freak c'est chic,
Freak out!
Have you heard about the new dance craze?
Listen to us, I'm sure you'll be amazed.
It's fun to be ahead of everyone.
It's up to you,
It surely can be done.
Young and old are doing it I'm told.
Just one try and you too will be sold.
It's called the freak,
They're doing it night and day.
Come on — We'll show you the way.
Freak out!

The Class Of 1979 — A History

The theme for the class of '79 is "CHANGES," and for many of us, these three years have been just that. Leaving junior high school was bound to bring changes and some of them were the most important ones of our lives.

FRESHMAN YEAR

The class of 1979 entered Commerce on September 8, 1976. Six-hundred seventy-one excited, but nervous freshmen entered the halls of Commerce. We spent the next few months learning about our school. We were given the Freshman Handbooks to introduce us to G.O., the High School of Commerce itself, the school newspaper, and to provide other information that was to help us during our three years here.

Our first rally was a surprising, but memorable experience as we joined together to promote the school spirit with cheers. At the conclusion of the first marking period freshman elections were held. Elected were: Alma DeLeon, President; Angela Burt, vice-president; and Mona Smith, secretary. The Student Council included Pam Davis, Joe Escobar, Laurie Fournier, Jose Pantoja, Felicia Stovall and Cheryl Williams.

Four new teachers were added to the faculty: Miss Burke, Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Guerra, and Mrs. Karr.

Key chains were sold and a bake sale was held as fund-raising events for the class.

For the first time at the High School of Commerce, a girls soccer team was organized with Miss Adelina DiSanti as coach.

The school newspaper was granted permission by the United States Postal Service to be officially changed from COMMERCE to the EXECUTIVE.

As we left in June, the class of 1979 was no longer a stranger to the High School of Commerce

On September 7, 1977 we re-entered Commerce as juniors. Our happiest event of the first part of our junior year came in October with the distribution of class rings. Junior officers were Brian DeBarge, president; Deborah Beroth, vice-president; and Mona Smith, secretary. The Student Council included: Nancy Cerrato, Kathy Dauplaise, Pam Davis, Joe Escobar, Laurie Fournier and Judith Zeno.

More rallies and fund-raising events were held, including a car wash, St. Patrick's Day carnation sale, and shaker sale. Also, student-faculty athletic games were held.

On October 24, a bloodmobile was held. Commerce students and faculty donated 101 pints of blood to this worthy cause.

Two new faculty members joined the staff of Commerce. Miss Masucci replaced Mrs. Vaughn, who retired after 19 years at Commerce, and Miss Modlish replaced Miss Burke.

This year for the first time in 25 years, we managed an undefeated football team. The Raiders went to the division championship, but were unfortunately defeated 2-0. Three of Commerce's players were placed on the All-Western Mass. teams. The Commerce hockey team went on the ice even though there were only 11 members, three of them goalies. The Raiders ended the season with a 4-16 record. For the third year the Commerce boys basketball team won both the Western Mass. and State Championships.

SENIOR YEAR

On September 6, 1978, we entered Commerce for our last and most exciting year. On our first day back we received our symbol of recognition as seniors — our senior hats. More rallies and assemblies were held. Joe Escobar served as president; Reginald Sanders, vice-president; and Mona Smith, secretary. The Student Council included Carolyn Colonna, Debbie Colby, Kathy Dauplaise, Paul Walker, Cheryl Williams, and Judy Zeno.

Mrs. Gibbons replaced Miss Modlish, and Mr. Olejarz substituted for Mr. Meacham. In addition, Miss Lura joined the office staff as principal clerk-typist.

In the fall bloodmobile, Commerce students and faculty donated 65 pints of blood to this life-saving cause.

A Vincent Price horror movie was shown on January 26 to raise money for the senior class.

Class Day signaled the start of senior activities, and to many seniors it meant the last day of school at the High School of Commerce. The Senior Banquet which was held May 18 at the Oaks Inn and was one of the most memorable nights of our lives.

Perhaps the most memorable night, of course, was the Senior Prom, which was held on May 26, 1979, at the Colosseum in West Springfield.

To many seniors, perhaps the saddest night was June 7, 1979, when Commencement ceremonies were held at the Springfield Civic Center.

Last Will And Testament

Mr. Conchieri's 5b class leaves him a brown and black shoe to match the ones he wore mis-matched.

Carolyn leaves Mr. Guerra a new score keeper and the hockey team another loyal fan!

Brian, Barry, and Milton leave Commerce challenging the class of '80 to out-dress the class of '79.

Jeff and Celeste leave pre-engaged.

Reggie Sanders leaves still looking for his neck.

Mrs. Carroll's Steno II classes leave her all the Steno II books in a nutshell.

Mrs. Poliak's homeroom leaves with many fulfilled times, and in hopes of reliving them at our reunion.

The Class of '79 leaves in style.

Cindy Vidal and Jane Hodges leave Mrs. Hatchett, Mr. Basili, and Mr. Troy with a book entitled 101 Ways to Get Out of Classes and Trouble.

Debbie, Marlene, and Michele leave Mrs. Poliak a dozen excuses for being late to class.

Sandra Kincaid leaves Mr. Czelusniak his English Vocabulary.

Natty leaves Mr. Guerra with a promise that there will be more Portuguese on their way, hopefully better soccer players.

Lorenza Jackson leaves Commerce saying it was a very exciting, interesting year.

Mona Smith, Cheryl Smith, and Nadine Smith leave with the Joneses.

Brian leaves Cheryl a new and better black book to try to find. Good Luck!

Debbie and Tom leave together.

Brenda, Joie, Marnita, Jana, and Pamela leave Mr. Conchieri two pennies to put into his penniless penny loafers, and coffee and doughnuts for next year's H.R.

Homeroom 118 leaves Miss Burlow saying, "No talking while Mr Sweeney is talking."

The Bobbsey twins Kathy and Adrienne leave Mr. C. with a suit that matches.

Shawn Edmonds leaves Mr. Cignoli a quiet homeroom.

The Class of '79 leaves Mr. Mazurowski a full supply of Mickey Mouse ledgers.

Joy and Liza leave Miss Pellegrino doing tabs.

The Concert Choir leaves Mr. Conway yawning the "aw" sound.

Tom leaves Mr. Allen a large bottle of hair tonic.

Gregory Bouknight leaves Commerce the same way he came in, smart.

The Class of '79 leaves Joe still asking Reggie questions.

Natonia leaves Miss Greenleaf wondering about next year's basketball team.

Cheryl leaves Carmen still playing with her toys in homeroom.

Mr. Trespass' chemistry classes leave him a book of Lo-gi-cal terms.

Kevin Powell leaves Miss DiSanti "So lonely."

Period 5a leaves Mr. Allen an Ever-lasting lunch bag.

Room 209 leaves Mr. LaFlamme all our hearts.

Ann, Jeanette, Gloria, and Sandy leave their lunch table to the next "Wild and Crazy Guys."

Sheila Henry leaves all the girls in the Class of '80 saying hands off Ronnie Brace.

Debbie Colby leaves her sister Barbara a senior at last, and behind as usual.

The Class of '79 leaves Tim Godbolt a microphone that will reach.

Brian leaves the Caduceus sports staff to someone else who might also enjoy being editor of an all-girl, boy-crazy staff.

Milton Pleasant leaves a pair of drum sticks and his funky drummer's beat.

Ed Pooler leaves quietly.

Lorrijane Taravella leaves Mr. Basili all the tardy excuses ever thought of.

Donna and Diane leave Mrs. Carroll with fifty more gray hairs.

Theresa, Debbie, and Celeste leave Mr. Czelusniak a book on how to eat Butterfingers without the class hearing him.

The Class of '79 leaves Joe and Sue finally together.

Andre Crump leaves Mr. Ryan his kicking shoes for next year.

G.O. Homeroom leaves Mr. Conchieri still trying to balance G.O. and an Italian girl.

Louis Jones and Wendall Baker leave Erwin Driskell a pack of Rolaids.

Sandra Kincaid leaves the freshmen with two more years of tests.

Gloria Blaxland and Darlene Barnard leave Miss Blakeslee a book of matches to burn every geometry book she has.

Carolyn, Debbie, Jana, and Nancy leave Mr. Tenczar with four more crazy daughters.

Lori and Wanda leave Mr. Gormally a whole crate of bananas, and picking up napkins from our trays.

Angela Burt leaves Mr. Guerra a new joke book and still wishing for his Corvette.

The Class of '79 leaves Miss Meehan with NO filing cabinets.

Mary Yagoobian leaves Mr. Conchieri her tired camel.

Mr. Allen's period three class leaves him a revised book of songs.

We, the Senior Homeroom, 108, leave Franklyn Brown still paying for G.O.

Milton White and Brian Stevenson leave Commerce the "World's First Clones."

Cathy Mclean leaves her thanks to Mr. Sweeney.

Jana leaves Nancy Costa and Reggie Sanders still arguing during lunch.

Joanne leaves Miss Burlow with love.

Gloria Blaxland leaves Commerce as Glubbie.

Mr. Trespass' second period class leaves him the whole Metric System.

Debbie, Filomena, Lori, and Nancy leave Mr. Carrier with fond memories.

Kathy and Sue leave Mrs. Arnold a box of crackers to go with the 10 pounds of cheese.

Charlene leaves Miss Czekanski a new skirt set.

Homeroom 218 leaves Mr. Allen an autographed copy of The Beauty Secrets of Telly Savalas.

Filomena, Jana, and Nancy leave Mrs. Reed with peace and quiet.

Celeste Charron and Debbie Beroth leave next year's Caduceus editors and Miss Costa a lot of luck to make the 1980 yearbook better (if possible).

The newspaper staff leaves Miss DiSanti a tall, dark, handsome, single, and rich man with a life's supply of gum.

Nancy Costa leaves Miss Costa another sister.

Kathleen Jones leaves Mr. Guerra his favorite name, Mr. Guerrabell and a toothbrush.

Tyrone Woodard, with the Class of '79 leaves the best of luck to the juniors who will face the same problems the seniors have overcome.

Kathy, Keith, and Theresa leave Mr. Conchieri a bag of butterschotch candy for his G.O. Homeroom next year.

Barbara and Sonia leave telling Kim what we did in Steno.

The Class of '79 would like to leave Mr. Sweeney a better class, but this is impossible!

THE HEADS OF THE CLASS

Three year honors are based on a grade-point calculation of a student's final marks from his freshman, junior, and senior years. This type of calculation is also used to complete the class rank.

The pictured graph indicates the value of an A, B, and C in any given course with the exception of Steno II, which is a three-credit course and, of course, earns a higher number of points.

After the calculations had been made, Mr. Anthony Serafino, Placement Counselor at the High School of Commerce, announced that 54 seniors achieved the distinction of being three-year honor students. First honors was attained by 21 students, second by 13 and third by 20.

ADVERTISING

Man is challenged today to excel in almost every endeavor . . . those who do succeed often trace the beginnings of their performance pattern to accomplishment in high school and to those who offered stimulation and inspiration in these formative years. Josten's has long been a partner to these educational leaders in providing a means of motivation and the rewards of recognition, and Josten's products have become tangible symbols honoring perserverance and achievement.

The class ring is representative of the fine traditions of school spirit and unity ☐ The yearbook provides a lasting memento of the year's accomplishments ☐ The diploma is a lifelong record of scholastic success ☐ The graduation announcement heralds this achievement ☐ Awards recognize academic and athletic leadership.

More than 3,000 Josten's employees are dedicated to your complete satisfaction. Serving you locally:

A Special Thanks

Tracy Martin, to whom the 1978-79 Caduceus staff owes a great deal, has unselfishly donated her valuable time and her artistic talent to make this year's yearbook come to life.

Because Tracy played such an important role in the process of producing this book, we would like to take time now to send a special "Thank You" to her.

Therefore, on behalf of the students of the High School of Commerce, we thank you very much and wish you luck for a successful future in the field of art.
